THE TELEGRAPH.

Friday Morning, Dec. 3, 1880.

LOCAL NEWS.

—The Misses Lee, go to New York for the winter.

—Mrs. E. H. Gilkey is seriously sick with a fever.

—The President-elect has got back from the Capital to Mentor.

—Beef by the quarter is sold upon the street for $5.50 and $5.

—Our old friend S. McIntyre of Jefferson is down with pleurisy.

—Mr. Smith leaves this week for his third trip this season to New York.

—Our Methodist friends hold religious meetings every evening this week.

—A supply of Leases may be found among our general supply of Blanks.

—John Collins has been able to get out and stands a fair chance for an early recovery of his nasal health.

—H. J. Laughlin of Saybrook, has given notice of his appointment as administrator of the estate of W. C. Perkins of Saybrook.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sheldon of Brooklyn, who have been the guests of Mrs. Laura Farrington, returned home last Tuesday.

—G. H. Russell, of Plymouth, had a fall in his barn, spraining an ankle, and making his locomotion rather lumbering and hobbling.

—Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon are spending the Thanksgiving season at the old family mansion. The health of Mrs. Farrington is far from comfortable.

—The Holiday vacation of the public schools, will be for one week only, beginning with the 24th inst. and opening on the first Monday of January.

—A heavy, nearly new, wolf robe was taken from the buggy of A. W. Smith, hitched in front of Riddell's store, about 5 o'clock on Monday evening last.

—The Geneva Times gives the report of new buildings put up in that pleasant little burg—$78,475—as the best indications of growth of any previous year.

—Auditor Gilkey, we hear, enters upon the duties of his office with becoming modesty and courtesy, and not without the fullest confidence of his friends.

—Butchering of the porkers has begun and anyone with a taste for those delicacies—tenderloins and spare ribs, may indulge to their heart's content.

—Mr. and Mrs. Sam Parsons have returned from their wandering in Europe and upon the continent. Their range of travel has been quite broad and deliberate.

—Mr. C. C. Swinbourne, of Chicago, who spent Thanksgiving at the residence of Mr. Charles Booth, Esq., started for Washington last Saturday for a few weeks visit.

—J. D. Hulbert has been suffering from inflammatory rheumatism with a dubious look for recovery, but he is we are happy to say, recovering with good promise of restoration.

—The miners at Stoneboro are still idle and will probably remain so until the company finds a market for coal at advanced rates, unless they conclude to go to work at former prices.

—Arrangements have been made by which all assessments of the N. E. M. Aid Association in the town of Connant, may be paid H. B. Thayer, Banker, of the firm of Lake, Thayer & Smith.

—The Reaper and Binder—the first introduced into the country by Mr. A. C. Stevens, we are instructed to say, was an Osborn machine, instead of a Champion, as intimated in the last Telegraph.

—The Pittsburgh Commercial says that the profits of the Standard Oil Co., made some 19 or 20 millions last year. The income of the Ashtabula county papers all put together would not amount to that.

—Some greenhorn raises the question—“Is Susan B. Anthony the maiden aunt of Marc Anthony—the admirer of Cleopatra?” There is probably more sarcasm in the inquiry than an honest desire for information.

—Thos. Flannigan, a Youngstown liquor merchant, discovered his young wife and a son, by a former marriage, in criminal relations and drove the lecherous pair from his house. He threatens to shoot both of them.

—You see the forces at the dry goods stores—now since the sleighing began—as busy as bees, in arranging the goods in confusion after a day's trade. Everything indicates business and a happy state of mind is among them.

—Dr. Pomeroy, of Windsor, was made the recipient of a gold-headed cane on Thanksgiving Day, an evidence—as was stated by F. R. Smith, Esq., who made the presentation—of the grateful respect of his neighbors and friends who have survived his treatment.

—Carlisle & Tyler are rather pushing things, as may be seen by the way they are appealing to their customers and the public. They are pretty shrewd fellows in the way of business, and do not expect to be outdone by any one along shore. Look at their mammoth adv.

—Mr. George Metcalf and lady paid a visit to Alliance upon the Rev. Dr. Day, and found things very pleasant and flourishing. The Sunday school presented a formidable appearance—numbering some four hundred. The elder would seem to have a flock to look after.

—Rev. Dr. Bailey's church—Massillon—has been made the recipient of an elegant silver communion set, baptismal font and contribution plates from one of its officers. This rather indicates the pleasant information that all is going well with the church and its worthy and able pastor.

—The attendance at the Opera House Cleveland, on Wednesday evening, from this place and along the Lakeshore amounted to some three hundred persons and the arrangements for the comfort of the visitors and the character of the Entertainment were such as to elicit a favorable expression.

—The snow Isosco is still sunk in the river at the Harbor. A small gang of men are still at work at her, but little or no progress is made in raising her. The ice forms about her, thereby increasing the labor and expense. From present indications she will remain where she is during the winter.

—The removal of H. R. Latimer from Rock Creek to Toledo was recently announced. A telegram was received on Monday last announcing his death. This death is the first that has occurred among the patrons of the N. E. Mutual Aid Association of this place, and will call for an assessment.

—John Crosby who has had so severe and doubtful struggle with typhoid, has, we understand, passed the culminating point and is on the rising grade. We mention, as something quite unusual, the range of vital heat in his case being some five degrees. Dr. Bartlett has had the case in charge.

—Many of the older mill men were caught by the cold snap with hundreds of bushels of apples on their hands for making, and are waiting for a thaw. Beside these stocks of apples in mill, large quantities of fruit, intended for the mill, were in heap in the orchard, and were covered by the beautiful snow.

—The report of the quarterly meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union came to hand after we had got into type an article of full length, from Richmond, and our practical man shut down upon its insertion this week, crowded as we are with a page advertisement, and supplement. It will find a place in our next.

—BILLIARDS MUST PAY. A third establishment of this kind has opened in the block this side north park, making the fifth or sixth on Main street. We are not quite sure whether or not there is one or two on Centre street. That illuminated sign in front of the Standard office rather looks as if there might be some saloon delicacies behind it.

—Our larder was never so well supplied as on Thanksgiving, 1880. We got a pair of ducks on credit, a subscriber brought in a ten pound turkey on subscription, another was sent in on an errand of benevolence, and an invitation to a sumptuous dinner from the same consideration completed our happiness by this abundant supply of our basket and store.

—The Cleveland papers announce the death, on Monday last, of Clark R. Dodge, in that city. The deceased in the gentleman who, a few months since, was joined in marriage to Miss Flora, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Smith Fassett of Bunker Hill. Mr. Dodge was 33 years of age, and a young man of fine business qualities, and the young lady so early left a widow is still younger. Coming so suddenly and in the midst of the pleasures of a happy union the occasion seems particularly a sad and severe blow. Mr. H. was the business manager of the Sunday Voice. Mrs. Dodge was of a quiet, amiable and lovely character, and her bereavement will be deeply felt among her numerous friends in this place.

—Gen. O. Chapman, the faithful and wide-awake agent of L. M. Crosby, left last week on a trip for securing a location for next year's business. The Staunton ground has been pretty thoroughly worked up, and afforded a very remunerative return. Mr. Crosby's numerous friends will be pleased to know of his securing an equally paying site for the approaching season.

—Such a nuisance has the juvenile use of cigarettes become that we see it stated that many of the stores of the city of New York have put up about their premises—“no cigarettes or lights furnished to boys.” From the number of children and youth we see—some of them not much more than half clad smoking—it would seem as if some of the stores of Ashtabula, might with very great propriety adopt the same rule.

—Mr. Sherman of the Standard office is in the horse propagation business, and is going to give evidence to the world of the fact that “Old Curly” is capable of perpetuating of her species. A singular accident befell a yearling colt on Sunday night last. Hitched to a manger by a rope, the rope became twisted around the under jaw, and the colt setting back on it, the tongue was cut about two thirds off, and leaving it in a bad condition.

—A short serial by Mrs. Burnett, author of “That Lass o' Lowrie's,” etc., will begin in the February Scribner. Meantime Mrs. Burnett is writing what promises to be her longest novel, for Scribner's MONTHLY. The scene is laid in Washington. Mr. Cable's new serial, “Madame Delphine,” will also begin in February, and run through three or four numbers. Mrs. Schayer's “Tiger-Lily” will be concluded in the January number.

—Oysters formed no part of the Thanksgiving commissary. The steady cold weather for days before, was unfavorable for taking the bivalves from their beds, and therefore, there was no stock on hand from which to meet the numerous orders that went from our dealers. An order of 30 gallons reached Bieder, but these were all that were received by some half-dozen of our retailers. Telegrams were sent east, west and south; but there were none to be had. Epicures concluded to accept the situation.

—Our friend of the Sentinel has been down to gotham and fell among false brethren, and came near getting a couple of pounds of tea, as a bait. He was so near fobbing the package as to look at the samples behind the screen of a saloon, but, as he intimates, a suspicion came over him here and he dodged before the tea was put into his hands. Well, there is something a little green about our friend, and its not surprising that an attempt should have been made by some confidence chap to rope him in. His redeeming good sense served him from being fleeced.

—Sheffield is able to furnish five farmers whose aggregate product of wheat, the past season reaches 2,000 bushels, while only five years ago, one at least of the five, if not the whole number, had to buy wheat for his own consumption. This revolution has been brought about by the new method of culture, drilling in phosphate with the crop. One farmer in the same town, sold not less than five car loads, 50 tons of this fertilizer during the past season. The success in wheat culture operates as an encouragement for increased crops from year to year. One of the five gentlemen alluded to, has now in the ground, an area of fifty-five acres.

—We are happy to see the churches of Rock Creek starting up into new life and usefulness. With the Congregational church we have a fellowship sympathy, and with its old pastor—Mr. Chafer—have been on very pleasant terms of friendship. We felt, when he left—sometime since—the church and the county, it was a loss to both. He has scholarship and ability as is apparent enough in his pulpit efforts, as well as in the miscellaneous of, forts of his tongue and pen. We trust that his usefulness may be recognized and encouraged. Of the occupant of the Discipline pulpit we have not the pleasure of an acquaintance, but hear him well spoken of, and trust his labors may be blessed, and that “righteousness, temperance and judgment to come,” may be the stability of the times in Rock Creek.

We notice by the Banner that arrangements have been made for a course of lectures at the Creek, and that Rev. Mr. Chafer will give the first of the series, on this—Friday— evening, at the Town Hall. That it will be well worth listening to, there can be no doubt.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

REDUCING THE POLICE FORCE AND TRANS-
ACTING A LITTLE OTHER BUSINESS.

At the regular meeting of the Council on Wednesday evening last, all members were present except Councilman Hancock. Minutes of previous meeting, of Nov. 17th, read and approved.

The Sidewalk Committee was directed to put in a sidewalk as soon as practicable, on Halbert street from Bridge street to Spruce street.

The Committee on Lighting Streets was directed to erect three street gaslights; one on Prospect street about midway between Station and Division streets, one on Prospect street about midway between railroad crossings and Centre street, and one at the southeast corner of Triangle Park.

The following resolution by Mr. Manning was adopted:

“Resolved, That on account of insufficient funds, the Mayor be, and he is hereby requested to discharge the present police force.”

Mr. Haskell then offered the following resolution which was adopted:

“Resolved, That the Mayor appoint tonight, one policeman for the Village at large, said appointment to continue until first meeting of Council in January, 1881.”

The Mayor then appointed William Rennie, which appointment was confirmed by the Council, all members voting yea except Councilmen Seymour and Manning.

The grades of Lake, Park, Centre, Division and Church streets, including curb lines of said streets and sidewalks, as shown by profiles submitted by David Sloan, C. E., were approved, and an ordinance ordered to be drawn in accordance therewith.

On motion of Mr. Haskell, the Marshal and police were instructed to take necessary steps to prevent cruelty to animals by hitching and leaving of the same on the streets, for an unreasonable time without feed, water, blankets, or otherwise.

The Marshal was instructed to notify merchants and others on Main street to keep the sidewalks clear of obstructions, as provided by ordinance.

A NEW POST OFFICE.

Post Master Sexton has made arrangements for a new location for the Ashtabula post office, and will fit it up in the latest style with the celebrated Yale Lock Company's cases. The new office will be located in the Haskell Block, 124 Main street, in the room formerly occupied by W. S. Burnham, which has been recently repaired, and the depth of the room increased to 100 feet.

The new letter case will be somewhat similar in shape to the one now in use, but will be larger, and much more convenient for the post office employees as well as the public. The wood work is to be of varnished pine, trimmed with black walnut. There will be 700 boxes in the case, and 150 lock boxes, fitted up with Yale locks, and glass in every door.

For the transaction of registered letter and money order business, a private office is set apart from the main office.

The new case is expected here about the 15th inst. and by the 20th Post Master Sexton expects to be ready for business in his new quarters.

A large part of the case now in use has been purchased by Post Master Howells of Jefferson, who will put it in use in his office.

The business of the Ashtabula office has greatly increased in the past few years, making it necessary to change location to larger and more convenient quarters.

HARPER'S WEEKLY.—Probably no paper in the land wields greater power, or has more influence for good than Harper's Weekly, through the telling illustrations of Nast and the learned and pungent editorials of Geo. Wm. Curtis. The time for selecting your family papers is now at hand and we would direct your attention to the advertisement of Harper's publications in another column. We will furnish them with the TELEGRAPH for 1881 for $5.25.

Arrangements have been made whereby all assessments of the N. E. Aid Association of Ashtabula, for the township of Morgan, can be paid at the Morgan Savings and Loan Association.

What can be more acceptable for a nice Christmas gift to your friends than a good picture of yourself in of those elegant velvet encacls, and the place to get it is at 13-15
Blakeslee & Moore's.

Worth knowing! Sure cure for all eye troubles and makes the old feel young! Reading the Ashtabula Store's new advertisement in this paper. It.
